

Debbie Comstock, LCSW
Co-Chair, CFRA Networks Committee
Chair of the Standards Certified Trainers Ca. Committee
DebbieComstock7@gmail.com

As a certified trainer for ten years, I am inspired by the efforts that programs make to use the Standards as a measure by which they can identify and increase their capacity to serve families. As an FRC Director, I supported the vetting of the Standards in East County San Diego prior to being adopted as a Statewide effort. I could see the value for developing common language with providers. In participating in the review and revision of the Standards, in 2021, not only do I continue to recognize the trauma informed aspects of the Standards, but the emphasis on diversity, equity, and inclusion. If you have not seen these Standards in the past two years, now is the time to become acquainted with this National Certification effort.

Teresa Johnes, BSW
Co-Chair, CFRA Networks Committee
TeresaJohnesConsulting@gmail.com

As one of the original co-authors of the Standards developed in California in 2012, and a certified trainer for over 5 years, the Standards for me, have provided family support stakeholders common language, foundational quality indicators and a lens to view what quality practices can look like in programing. As someone who has led countywide initiatives, in particular the implementation of the Standards, I love when family support staff can see themselves implementing the Standards and evaluating Program effectiveness, it validates the impact the Standards can have on Programs, participants and communities.

Yvette O. Baptiste, Ph.D.
Executive Director, Eastern Los Angeles Family Resource Center
ybaptiste@elafrc.net

As a prevention and early intervention provider for families whose children have or are at risk of a disability, my involvement in training on the Standards is about ensuring the co-design and implementation of quality standards for services provided to families like mine. Among the first to be trained as a trainer of the Standards in California, I enjoy meeting and supporting the training needs of diverse professionals supporting families.

Carrie Collins, MA

*Family Advocate Services Director, The Link Family Resource Center
Program Manager, Transitional Food and Shelter, a Medically Fragile
Homeless Program in Atascadero, CA*

carrie@linkslo.org

When I first received the Standards Training, I loved the way they were organized and how user friendly they are. I was honored to become a trainer on the Standards in 2020. It is exciting to hear what Statewide FRC's are doing to bring the Standards to life in their own organizations, and how I can provide ongoing support.

Jasmine Alexandra Frye

Senior Program Manager, San Francisco Family Support Network

jasmine@sffsn.org

The standards have taught me to be a better listener and find joy in supporting FRC's and CBO's. There are plenty of positive aspects that Case Managers, Managers, Support Staff, and Executive Directors provide for the community they serve, and the Standards offer additional tools and resources. Being a trainer, I want to shine all the light on the positive things organizations are doing with a different framework that will allow them to support one another when a challenge arises. As a Senior Program Manager for a Network, I can bridge and build community with all the wonderful FRC's and CBO's

Patty Moore

Director, Help Me Grow Santa Barbara County

pjmoore@alphasb.org

The Standards support the commitment of those who value all children, families, and strong communities. Each time I conduct a Standards certification training, I'm inspired by the insight and experience of those who participate. It's wonderful to work with those who share a passion for ensuring the provision of quality family support and services in all aspects of service delivery and systems change.

Diane Storman

*Project Specialist, San Diego State University Research Foundation
Exceptional Family Resource Center*

dstorman@sdsu.edu

I first learned about the Standards when I joined the San Diego Family Strengthening and Support Network. I was certified in the Standards in 2015 and became a trainer in 2016. Adopting the Standards has enabled our program to help strengthen families so that children with disabilities live in inclusive communities and develop to their full potential. With their focus on The Principles of Family Support Practice and the research-based, evidence-informed Strengthening Families Protective Factors Framework, I am proud to help advance strong families and communities as a Standards trainer.

Interested in becoming a Trainer contact:
Debbie Comstock
DebbieComstock7@gmail.com

California Family Resource Association
Strong Families. Strong Communities.